The Politics of Memory: Transitional Justice in Democratizing Societies (Oxford Studies in Democratization) Alexandra Barahona De Brito, Carmen Gonzalez Enriquez, Paloma Aguilar

One of the most important political and ethical issues faced during a political transition from authoritarian or totalitarian to democratic rule is how to deal with legacies of repression. This book explores the important aspect of transitional politics, assessing how Portugal, Spain, the countries of Central and Eastern Europe and Germany after reunification, Russia, the Southern Cone of Latin America and Central America, as well as South Africa, have confronted legacies of repression.
